Name: Lupe Vega

Age: 29

Sex & Gender: Female

Race/Origin: Human, West Coast Latine (Mexican-American)

Archetype/Inspiration Character: A post-apocalyptic Zorro.

3-4 keywords: Foolhardy, cunning, loyal.

Wants/Needs/Motivation: To avenge the deaths of her parents.

Summary that best describes your character: The Regretful Vigilante.

Voice Notes: Lupe is dryly sharp-tongued, like a lazy papercut. She's fond of needling the PC, and will default to sarcasm for even simple questions - both as a defensive method to prevent further investigation and as friendly banter.

Audio Voice Quality: A higher but scratchy voice, think Martha Higareda as Kristin Ortega in Altered Carbon.

Quote: "A guy like that, one vengeful act doesn't fix the problem. It just makes all the other problems more clear."

Biography/Background: The youngest child of a merchant family, Lupe was only ten years old when her parents were killed by a raiding gang member who was, at the time, suspected to have been the hired gun of another merchant family.

After her parent's deaths, Lupe was then sent to live with an aunt, close to the edge of civilisation. When she returned to her family home at the age of 19, it became clear that her eldest brother had arranged their parent's deaths so that he could take over the business to secure financial connections.

Though she attempted to bring her brother to justice and regain control of the family business, Lupe found herself thwarted by bureaucracy and the social stagnation of the area. In disgust, she left and returned to the border town, which became the base of her later operations.

Continuing to assist her aunt in running and managing her tienda, Lupe also began leading small caravans. Using her role as a merchant as cover, Lupe started a campaign to ruin the businesses of those who profited off of her parent's death, eventually expanding her targets to include any unscrupulous people of power.

Unique Look: Lupe wears a black panama hat with a red band and an attached red hood/scarf that covers the neck and wraps around the front for dust and sun protection.

Iconic Weaponry/Ability: Lupe is primarily an edged weapon fighter. Her primary weapons are a dagger and heavy rapier, with throwing knives as her ranged weapon. Although Lupe does not initially carry any guns, or projectile weapons, she will use them if equipped.

Additional Info:

- If the player character gives Lupe any faction armour she will refuse it and say “I thought you had better taste than that.”
- If player character gives Lupe any guns or projectile weapons she will laugh and say one of the following lines:
 - “I’m not sure you should trust me with this.”
 - “I guess it could be useful if I lose my sword.”
 - “Pew, pew, pew!”
